NOT TO SHARE AUNT'S ESTATE

Nieces and Nephews of Late Pheobe
Folger Lose in Decision Construing Will

SPRINGER SPECIAL JUDGE

Holds That Brother and Two Half-Brothers of Deceased's Husband Get Property

Judge Raymond Springer of Connersville handed down his decision yesterday afternoon construing the will of the late Pheobe Folger, a resident of Walker township, who left an estate valued at $10,000. Judge Springer was the special judge in the case and in his special finding of facts and conclusions of law holds that the nephews and nieces shall not share in the estate and that the sole heirs entitled to the estate are Rufus L. Folger, a brother of the late Thomas Folger, Mrs. Folger's husband and John C. Folger and Homer Folger, half-brothers of the late Thomas Folger.

The will of Pheobe Folger was drawn in 1894 and she died in 1914. Under the terms of the will her brothers and sisters and the brothers and sisters of her late husband were to share equally and each of her late husband's half-brothers were to get a sum equal to one-half that willed to the whole brothers. All of these relatives died except Rufus L. Folger, a brother of her husband and John and Homer Folger, half-brothers of her husband.

A claim to a share in the estate was set up by the nieces and nephews and to determine who should share under the will, Emerson E. Barnard, executor of the will, filed suit asking for a construction. The decision of Judge Springer finds for the defendants, the three men named. These men were opposed by the other relatives of Mrs. Folger and under the finding the following will receive no share of the estate, although they set up a claim: Emerson Barnard, Herbert Barnard, Eva Harvey, Addison Barnard, Horace Barnard, Warren Barnard, John E. Barnard, Alphonso Gardner, Frank P. Gardner, C. P. Gardner, Florella Pitts, John L. Rigsbee, Adrian Rigsbee, Albert Rigsbee, Manlove Rigsbee, Flora Swain, Frank Folger, Libbie Bodwell, Henry C. Folger, Wigan Folger, Orange, Folger, Mary Nicholson, Laura Gould, Rufus Folger, Austin Leonard, Joseph Leonard, Mary Bortner, Sarah Underwood, Malinda Thompson, John C. Folger and Homer Folger.

The finding of Judge Springer follows:

"That the law is with the defendants, Rufus L. Folger, John C. Folger and Homer Folger.

"That the brothers and sisters of said testatrix, and the brothers and sisters of the late husband of said testatrix, as described in the first and second items of the last will and testament of Pheobe Folger, deceased, who are entitled to take under the same are such brothers and sisters of said testatrix, and those of her deceased husband of said testatrix as were living at the time of the death of said testatrix, and no others;—and that none of the nephews of nieces or other descendants of such brothers and sisters of said testatrix, or her deceased husband, or half-brother of such deceased husband as mentioned in the first and second items of such will, such brother and sister and half-brothers having died prior to the time of the death of said testatrix, will take any portion of said estate or be entitled to distribution thereof; and that, therefore, the only persons entitled to take under said

NO TRACE OF HEADLEE BOY

Police, After Searching in Two Cities, Believe He's in Indianapolis

So far they police have found no trace of Emerson Headlee, the thirteen-years-old son of Mrs. W. O. Headlee, who disappeared from home Wednesday night. Police-man Seward was in Connersville and Richmond yesterday but failed to find any clue that would lead to the whereabouts of the boy. Young Headlee has an uncle living in Richmond and it was thought likely that he would go there, but the relative had seen nothing of him.

The police believe now that he probably went to Indianapolis and if this was the case it is believed he will be found shortly. The boy's mother is almost distracted over his absence.

BOY'S FOOT WASN'T CUT OFF AFTER ALL

Dr. W. C. Smith Got Letter Today
Stating Physicians Changed
Their Mind at Last Moment

HIS TEMPERATURE NORMAL

Dr. W. C. Smith received a letter this morning from the chief surgeon of the C. I. & W. in Indianapolis stating that Lewis Chester Wells the two-year-old son of Mrs. Rhoda Wells, who was injured in the accident a week ago last Monday at the Spencer street crossing here, was getting along so nicely that they decided not to amputate his left foot.

The letter stated that everything was in readiness for the operation but it was not performed as planned because the boy's temperature was found to be normal. Dr. Smith had secured consent of Mrs. Wells to amputate and because the doctors were in such a hurry it was believed the amputation resulted. The letter stated that perhaps one or two more toes would be removed but from indications now the foot would be saved. The boy's right foot is healing nicely. Mrs. Wells, the mother is now able to sit up in a chair at the home of her father.

—Mr. and Mrs. Low Bowman and family of Richmond were the guests of friends here for a time this morning while enroute to Brown county.

APPEAR ON THE SAME PLATFORM

James E. Watson and Harry S. New Address Two Rallies in Ripley County Thursday

TO BE ONLY TIME IN CAMPAIGN

Local Candidate Proves by Records
G. O. P. Act and Not Reserve
Law Averted a Panic

For the only time during the campaign, James E. Watson of this city and Harry S. New of Indianapolis, both Republican candidates for the United States senate, appeared on the same platform at two political meetings in Ripley county yesterday. It is the aim of the state speakers' bureau to send these two nominees into different territories, but each had promised some time ago to speak at the Ripley county rallies, one of which was held at Osgood and the other at Batesville.

They spoke to a crowd that filled the Batesville opera house last night and in the afternoon addressed a crowd of 1,000 persons at Osgood. Both candidates presented figures in support of their assertion that extravagance, and not the needs of the country, were responsible for the unprecedented expenditures of the present Congress. Mr. New criticized the Wilson foreign policy, both with respect to European countries and to Mexico.

Mr. Watson, asserting that the Aldrich-Vreeland act, a Republican measure, and not the Federal reserve act, saved the country from a panic after the outbreak of the European war, replied to President Wilson's recent address in Detroit, Mich., in which the President gave credit to the reserve act. He pointed out that the Democratic measure became operative four months after the war began and that Secretary McAdoo himself said the reserve system "was therefore unable to render any service in the situation."

Continuing Mr. Watson said: "It will be remembered that the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill was passed by the Republican party in 1909 for the purpose of creating an emergency currency that could be so placed and disposed of upon demand as to prevent a money stringency in any portion of the country and thus make impossible a money panic like that which distressed the nation in 1907. This act expired by limitation on June 30, 1914, but the Democrats, by express statute, extended its operation one year in order that they might be able to take advantage of its ample provision."

"Before October 31, 1914, Secretary McAdoo had actually sent out $369,558,000 of the Vreeland currency to various banks and at that time reported that there was over $360,000,000 of it outstanding. "In his annual report to congress on the 7th day of December, 1914, after reciting these various facts and claiming for himself and for his party the credit for averting a panic, McAdoo said: 'This has been accomplished, having reference to the prevention of the panic, this has been accomplished, notwithstanding the facts that the federal reserve system was at that time only in process of formation and was therefore unable to render any service in the situation.'

"Here is an expressed acknowledgment of the fact that the panic was averted by making use of the currency provided by the Vreeland act, while the President squarely asserted in his speech in Detroit that the federal reserve act, 'saved the country from a ruinous panic when the stress of the war came on.'

Mr. Watson further asserted that

WILL MAKE FALL FESTIVAL PLANS

Citizens Interested in Event to Take Place of Horse Show Will Meet Tonight at 8.

TO JOIN WITH CENTENNIAL

Various Suggestions Have Been Made and They Will All be Threshed Out Tonight

Just what the nature of the fall festival and centennial celebration here the week of October 9, to take the place of the annual fall horse show, will be, is to be determined at a general meeting of all persons interested in the project at the mayor's office or council chamber tonight at eight o'clock.

Various suggestions have been made regarding features for the fall event. They will all be considered and threshed out tonight, and in all probability some committees will be appointed to take up the active work of preparing for the celebration.

The idea of bringing a carnival company here for the week has been abandoned and free attractions, shows and other concessions that are desired will be booked independently. The carnival which Greensburg and this city was considering and which was showing at Goshen this week, was not up to expectations. In addition, a rain storm leveled its tents and damaged its concessions so that it is doubtful if they would have been able to show here.

The idea of also having a home coming in connection with the festival and centennial has been suggested, and will probably be taken up. Many ideas regarding uniform decorations have been talked of, but it is generally conceded that the merchants will not expend the money they did last year with a professional decorator. They believe that they can do the job almost as well at a much smaller cost and invest the additional money to make a better festival.

The automobile show which was attempted last year for the first time in connection with the horse show was an unqualified success and there is talking of repeating it this year. The suggestion has been made that the show be put on under a large tent in the business district.

In view of the fact that the Greensburg centennial will be held the week following the date picked here, an effort is being made to book attractions for both places with the view of making better terms. George H. Dunn of Greensburg conferred with business men here Wednesday afternoon about this proposition and it is likely the two cities will join their interests.

PAYS UP AND GETS HIS COW

Police Take up Animal Caught Grazing in Streets

The police department had a full grown life-sized cow on its hands for a time this afternoon, but disposed of the property when the owner paid the costs of putting the animal up. For some time the police have been bothered by cows grazing near the city park. The complaints have been many and almost every time the cows get out in the streets. This afternoon one was found in the streets near the corner of Jackson and Ninth streets and was taken to a livery stable by Police-man Seward. The cow was the property of Forest Miller and the charges amounted to forty cents. The police are determined to stop the practice and will take up more cows that are found in the street.

FOR A STREET ASSESSMENT

W. C. Reinheimer Files Action Today Demanding $450

Walter C. Reinheimer filed suit this afternoon against George Havens, Mrs. Lou Havens, Arvell Herkless, the Peoples National bank, J. Frank Vance and Leander Wicker, to foreclose a street assessment demanding $450. Reinheimer was the contractor that built West Tenth and the complaint alleges that George Havens and Mrs. Lou Havens have not paid their assessment on lot No. 117 in the Payne, Reeve and Allen addition to Rushville. The other parties are made defendants because it is alleged they are claiming an interest adverse to the plaintiff's claim. Kiplinger and Smith represent the plaintiff.

CONGRESS ENDS A LONG SESSION

One of Most Eventful in Nation's History Contains With Questions of Grave Import

PREPAREDNESS IS DOMINATE

Inherits Most Pressing Problems
From European War and the Mexican Turmoil

(By United Press.)
Washington, Sept. 8.—"It has been good work."

With these words, President Wilson affixed his signature to the revenue bill today and indicated to leaders of the house and senate that the sixty-fourth congress, so far as it depended on his wishes, could come to a close. Some thing of an informal function was made of the ceremony of signing the last bills of the session.

In a formal statement today the president warmly praised this session of congress. At the same time he expressed his regret that it had not had time to complete the railway dispute legislation proposed and declared his expectation that the entire program would be completed by the next session.

Congress adjourned at ten o'clock today. The session that had lasted longer and had seen more dramatic moments than any of recent history and that had appropriated more money than any congress preceding it came to a close amid scenes that contained little of the spectacular. It has been in session nine months.

Called on twice to back the President in steps which it thought surely meant war with Germany, and actually appropriating millions for the Mexican punitive expedition, it nevertheless found time for half a dozen domestic measures of major importance—and to approve the heaviest appropriations in American history.

"Preparedness" led in attention throughout. The largest naval appropriation the world has ever known in peace-time, and the next-but-one largest army budget, were approved. Back of every economic measure—child labor, rural credits, U. S. merchant marine, workmen's compensation, was the cry of "industrial preparedness."

Though the Democratic party never lost its hold on legislation and though President Wilson at all times was the admitted pilot, not a single measure passed both Houses on strict party lines.

The most sensational episode of the session was the fight over the Gore and McLemore resolutions, warning Americans off armed merchant ships after Germany had given notice it intended torpedoing them. Avowedly slaps at the President's foreign policy, they brought the Chief Executive and Congress into sharp conflict.

Leaders of Congress called on the President and warned him if the resolutions came to a vote, they would be approved, two to one. The President's answer was a summary demand that they be tabled. Three or four days passed while the fight was organized from the White House. Then his congressional lieutenants struck, and the resolutions were overwhelmed. After that Congress—except for one halting exception—accepted the President's leadership in foreign affairs without question.

A short conflict loomed when the President personally visited the Capitol, and told Congress he had sent Germany a virtual ultimatum over the Sussex incident. Suddenly hundreds of thousands of telegrams in five or six identical forms, poured in from every section of the

We put it up to Hundreds of Dentists

Long before SENRECO was offered to you we submitted it to hundreds of dentists, requesting that they put it to every test. Told them that we believed Senreco to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially as to its cleansing qualities and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested Senreco from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—

And They Voted Yes

With practically one accord—said:

"Senreco appeals to me more than any dentifrice I have ever seen." "I cannot say too much for Senreco. It's one of the best I have used." "I can recommend Senreco as the best." "Makes the teeth gleam and is free from injurious ingredients, including pumice and grit." "I am indeed glad to get a tooth paste that does the work." "Congratulate you on formulating a dentifrice that gives one a new idea of mouth cleanliness, etc." (These quotations are from the dentists' reports. Originals on file at our office.)

With such endorsements from the men who know; why not go to your dealer today and get a tube of SENRECO—25c. Keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN, and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay.

• A copy of the folder, "The Most General Disease in the World" together with a liberal trial size tube of SENRECO will be mailed you for 4c in stamps. The Sental Remedies Co., Inc. Dept. B, Masonic Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Community Bell Wether.

Every farmer who raises sheep knows to what the above refers. The "bell wether" is the leader of the flock. He usually wears a bell, and wherever he and his bell go, thither his flock obediently follows. For good or ill, to safety or into danger, where he leads they go. If he happens to be a wise old fellow his followers profit by his wisdom, but if he develops vicious and unreliable traits disaster is almost certain to overtake the flock.

Have you ever paused to think how like the sheep are we humans in this respect? Look around in almost any community and you will easily spot the bell wether. And not only can you locate him, but a little study of local conditions will invariably disclose to the careful observer his true characteristics as a leader.

If the community is progressive, prosperous, law abiding and happy, you may put it down that this state of affairs results largely from the fact that these qualities are inherent in the leaders of community life.

We know that many people like to think and assert that we are all equal and recognize no leaders, but this is purely a figment of the imagination. Nine out of every ten of us are too busy with our own affairs to take time to attend to the details of community life. There are a thousand and one questions of public import that must fall to the lot of some one who has the time and the capacity to grapple with them, and under such conditions community leaders are developed. If, happily, he possesses wisdom, coupled with a spirit of unselfish devotion to the interests of the community, then the community is indeed fortunate. But when he develops vicious traits and an inclination for self-seeking, then, like the sheep, his followers are in danger.

While most of us are too busily engaged in our own pursuits to assume these burdens of civic responsibility, we yet may keep a watchful eye upon those who have assumed the burdens and assist them in the faithful discharge of their trusts.

This we can and should do, every one of us. This is a pretty good old world, after all, and safe leaders and public officials can easily be found, and every public spirited citizen should join the hunt.

A New York political writer has defined William Jennings Bryan as an honorable bunk bottle who produces gas 6,000 times lighter than air.

There is one automobile for every thirty-two persons in the United States, according to the compilation of an authority on the subject. We are chomching this fact without asking if "you have yours."

An epigrammatist has given a definition of himself as one who can make a simple idea hard to understand.

Another Opportunity.

The New York Tribune contends that there is another opportunity for President Wilson to settle a strike on the eve of the election. It is the strike of the 15,000 iron miners in the Mesaba range. These men struck for $3 for eight hours work, and bi-monthly paydays. They have suffered hardship as a result of their strike and their families are enduring great privation. The Tribune points out that with the precedent established for the settlement of strikes by Congress, at the direction of the President, enacting legislation compelling employers to pay the wages demanded by their employees, the iron workers should rush Bill Haywood, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and Arturo Giovannitti to the White House, before Congress adjourns, that they should explain to the President the demands of the men and the number of voters in the organization known as the Industrial Workers of the World, remind him of the close approach of the presidential election and, with the added force of a graphic description of the privations of the miners' families, they would experience no difficulty in inducing Mr. Wilson to order Congress to enact legislation directing the mine owners to pay $3 for an 8-hour day. Mr. Wilson could not now logically refuse.

War still wages at the front in Europe and over the back fence in America.

We are frank to admit that dead men tell no tales, but a lot of tales are told about them after they are dead.

Death is not worrying us, but to be forgotten after death induces us to cling tenaciously to life.

When hunting for a job a recommendation is about the poorest recommendation you can have.

There are so many crooks in the road of life that most people prefer to cut the corners.

The ass that brays is not half so assinine as the one that makes suggestive remarks about women on the public streets.

SAYS BAKERS FACES A BAD SITUATION

State President Writes A. G. Wilkinson of Abnormally High Prices That Exist Now

HIGHER PRICES ARE LIKELY

A. G. Wilkinson has a letter from the president of the Indiana Association of Master Bakers, W. F. Geller of Fort Wayne, calling attention to the fact that the chief topic of interest at the approaching sessions of Indiana bakers next Wednesday afternoon at Indianapolis will be the high cost of bakers' materials and the subsequent losses to the bakers with bread at its usual retail price.

Mr. Wilkinson recently made an announcement of an increase in the price of bread, effective Monday, August 28. He now sells nothing but a ten-cent loaf of twenty ounces.

Similar action is being taken elsewhere in the state. The letter from the state association president says the reasonable price of flour up until lately is the only thing that has saved many bakers from bankruptcy. Now that it has followed the examples of other ingredients of bread, bakers must do something to stay in business, he declares.

GOES DRY BY 388 MAJORITY

Bloomington Keeps Out Saloons by Largest Vote in History

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 8.—Bloomington, the seat of Indiana University, voted yesterday to remain in the dry column, giving a majority of 388 against saloons, the largest margin ever recorded in a local option election in the city. The figures were larger than even the dries expected and were a great disappointment to the wets, who claimed a victory last night on the showing of their poll. The wets carried only two precincts, and those by greatly reduced majorities as compared with two years ago. The only way the wets could explain the result was by saying that they failed to get out their vote.

RESTS WITH CONFERENCE

No Troops to be Withdrawn Until After Report is Made

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 8.—Neither the militia stationed on the border nor General Pershing's command will be recalled until the Mexican-American conference at New London, Conn., makes its report on that subject, it was stated upon high authority today.

In the meantime, it was said, the plans to send other militia organizations now in their state camps to the border have not been changed.

Short Cake Any Man Can Make

Fruit is very plentiful this year—of good quality and low in price—the raspberries have not been so sweet and flavored for a number of years. This is practically true of all the fruits—Logan berries, black berries and raspberries eaten either with fresh milk, sugar and cream or in short cake are especially delicious.

While nothing can be more appetizing than thoughts of a luscious berry short cake it brings too visions of a hot oven and a hot kitchen. However it would be worth the trouble but we don't have to take it now bake it—there is a recipe for the most delicious short cake you ever ate and any man can make it—the man that wrote this article has made and eaten many of them and his wife and daughters said they were good, too—use any fruit with it.

Peach Short Cake

8 Holland Rusks ¼ Cup Sugar

1 qt. Sliced Peaches Whipped cream

Slice the peaches with a silver knife (or use any reasonable fruit) and add the sugar, more or less will be needed according to the sweetness of the fruit. Allow this to stand to draw out some of the juice. Butter Holland Rusks and place in the oven to heat. Place a Rusk on the plate and pour over it some fruit and juice. Place a second Rusk on top of the fruit and pour over some more fruit and juice. On top of this place a spoon of sweetened whipped cream and place a bit of fruit in this. Serve cold soon after preparing.

Holland Rusk is for sale at most groceries, crisp and fresh, at 10 cents per package. The prudent housewife always keeps them in her pantry to serve with creamed dishes or with fruit. The famous Dutch Windmill Cookies made by the bakers of Holland Rusk are the most delicious cookies you ever tasted. They are only 10 cents and are worth twice that and you will say so when you get them.

Results Tell the Tale

Can you doubt the evidence of this Rushville citizen?

You can verify Rushville endorsement.

Read this:

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Sexton St., Rushville, says: "I used to have to get up six or seven times, each night on the account of the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often they were scanty and accompanied by pain. I also had severe backaches. Nothing ever did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Johnson's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to fix me up. The pain left and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given July 27, 1912).

On August 25, 1915, Mr. Levi said: "I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have given me a permanent cure."

EVERY SECTION IS REPRESENTED

Prominent Athletes of Country Are Entered in National Amateur Athletic Contests.

RECORDS EXPECTED TO FALL

Indianapolis Has Contributed Four Players to the Cubs and All Expect to Make Good.

BY HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Newark, Sept. 8.—The most prominent athletes of the United States, from every section of the country, are here today to take part in the annual championship contests of the Amateur Athletic union. Today's contests are in the junior class, but tomorrow the senior champions will hold their meet.

Interest in the contest centers mainly in the possibilities of victories for the western champions. The middle west and the Pacific coast are sending men who stand head and shoulders above previous importations from those sections, although some of them are men who already have taken part in the bigger games.

The University of Missouri, in Simpson and Floyd, has two wonderful men and the two are entered for the senior championships, having been picked at the meet recently held in St. Louis. Simpson, besides being a broad jumper of uncanny power, holds an unofficial world's record for the 120-yard high hurdles and Floyd has a record in the pole vault. Simpson has been timed going over the barriers in 14-35 seconds, a record that is absolutely astounding.

From the far west will come Kelley, Thomson and Murray, all hurdlers, every one of whom has cleared the high hurdles in less than 15 seconds.

Archie Mucks, the prodigious weight heaver from the University of Wisconsin, will be a contender and the big athlete is expected to knock the props from under some records.

The western coast already have sent apologies ahead for any failures in the meet. They must make a long trip to compete and if they are stale it will be blamed to that.
Traveling, it is admitted, has a bad effect on runners and jumpers.

Joie Ray, wearing the colors of the I. A. C., also is entered for the distance runs.

Alva Richards Cornell's strong man who hails from Provo, Utah, is favored to take the all round honors in the meet September 16th. He is the present champion. He also was victor in the last Olympic games at the high jump.

Records are certain to fall when these classy athletes get together in competition. It probably is the greatest collection of performers ever brought together in one field in the United States.

Columbia University, which was out of football for ten years until last year, will get back into the game this year with what is expected to be a strong team. First practice will be held Sept. 20.

Indianapolis of the American association already has contributed 4 players to the Cubs. Joe Kelly, outfielder, was first to go and Pitcher Nick Carter soon followed. This pair already has reported. Pitchers Victor Aldridge and Rex Dawson were sold later for delivery at the beginning of next season. Aldridge is declared to be one of the greatest prospects of the minor leagues.

Roger Hornsby, the Cardinal phenom, seems on the way to realize his ambition to lead National league swatsmiths during his first season as a major leaguer.

Negotiations for a football game between Yale and a Pacific coast university team are doomed to failure, according to New Haven reports.

Ralph Glaze, picked-as an all star American end when he was at Dartmouth, will help coach Drake University's football squad at Des Moines this year. Glaze has been at the University of Southern California for two years.

How to avoid Operations

These Three Women Tell How They Escaped the Dreadful Ordeal of Surgical Operations.

Hospitals are great and necessary institutions, but they should be the last resort for women who suffer with ills peculiar to their sex. Many letters on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., prove that a great number of women after they have been recommended to submit to an operation have been made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here are three such letters. All sick women should read them.

Marinette, Wis.—“I went to the doctor and he told me I must have an operation for a female trouble, and I hated to have it done as I had been married only a short time. I would have terrible pains and my hands and feet were cold all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was cured, and I feel better in every way. I give you permission to publish my name because I am so thankful that I feel well again.”
—Mrs. FRED BEHNKE, Marinette, Wis.

Detroit, Mich.—“When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so run down with female troubles that I could not do anything, and our doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. I could hardly walk without help so when I read about the Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others I thought I would try it. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and used them according to directions. They helped me and today I am able to do all my work and I am well.”
—Mrs. THOS. DWYER, 989 Milwaukee Ave., East, Detroit, Mich.

Bellevue, Pa.—“I suffered more than tongue can tell with terrible bearing down pains and inflammation. I tried several doctors and they all told me the same story, that I never could get well without an operation and I just dreaded the thought of that. I also tried a good many other medicines that were recommended to me and none of them helped me until a friend advised me to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The first bottle helped, I kept taking it and now I don't know what it is to be sick any more and I am picking up in weight. I am 20 years old and weigh 145 pounds. It will be the greatest pleasure to me if I can have the opportunity to recommend it to any other suffering woman.”—Miss IRENE FROELICHER, 1923 Manhattan St., North Side, Bellevue, Pa.

If you would like special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

TEACHERS MUST REPORT

Will go to School Regardless of Paralysis Epidemic.

New York, Sept. 8.—Thousands of men and women teachers in schools in New York had to report for duty and go to work today even though there is no school, on account of the infantile paralysis epidemic. The time of the teachers will be taken up by conferences and lectures on several new laws and systems of teaching that go into effect in New York schools this year. Many of the teachers have an indefinite idea of their new duties.

Amusements

Patrons of the Gem theater will see four reels of pictures tonight, two a comedy and the other two an intensive Imp drama, "Jim Slocum, No. 46393." The story describes how though a man's motives were bad, he came out right in the end. King Baggot and Edna Hunter play the leading parts. Herbert Rawlinson and Agnes Vernon will be seen in "The Wire Pullers." Saturday matinee and night the popular stars Harry C. Myers and Rosemary Theby will be at the Gem in a comedy, "Object Matrimony." Monday night Mary Fuller comes in the Bluebird five-reeler, "The Strength of the Weak."

The Princess offers the five reel feature "The Lights of New York," for the program tonight. Leah Baird and an all star cast are featured. It is a story of a crook who gained access to elite New York society. Miss Baird wears many beautiful gowns in this production and this together with other scenic effects makes the picture well worth while. A veritable fashion parade interwoven with a strong plot makes this a great picture. Tomorrow Francis Bushman and Irene Warfield will be shown in the drama "The Voice in the Wilderness."

"PEOPLE SAY I LOOK BETTER"

Neighbors of Mrs. Agnes Irons Make Her Improvement Common Subject

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 7.—"The neighbors are talking about the improvement in my condition," Mrs. Agnes Irons, 54 years old, a well known Fort Wayne woman, who lives at 704 Davis street, said a few days ago. "They say I look so much better since taking Tanlac," she continued.

"For six years I had kidney trouble and rheumatism bothered me for two years. I felt draggy all the time. Shortness of breath bothered me. Pains were severe across my back and in my left hip and my limbs."

"The draggy feeling began to leave after I had taken a half bottle of Tanlac. I've taken three bottles of Tanlac now. The shortness of breath bothers me no more. I can walk around as well as any one now. My improvement is a common subject of talk in my neighborhood."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness and the like, and is a fine blood purifier. Tanlac is now sold exclusively in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's drug store.

CONGRESS ENDS
A LONG SESSION

country. There were hundreds of bushels of them. Astounded, Congress wavered in its attitude.

In a smashing speech, Senator Husting exposed the demonstration as backed and financed by a German-American organization. Officials of the latter admitted it, and the affair became a cloak-room jest.

From the time the session opened, the pot of Mexican affairs never ceased boiling. Half a dozen Republicans—led by Fall and Borah in the Senate—were insistent interventionists. As the bandit raids into American territory developed, border Democrats became restless.

"Watchful waiting" was jeered as a policy productive only of bandit contempt and continued outrages. Each outbreak furnished new ammunition for interventionist oratory. At length guardsmen and troops were sent to the border. The movement was supported by both parties, although republicans charged it was a political rather than a military step. Senator Lafolette pushed through a resolution pledging the country against intervention. Alone of Republicans, he praised President Wilson's policy.

With the calling of the state troops, a new principle in American military history was established. For the first time, the President was enabled to send a national guardsman beyond the boundaries of his country without either the guardsman's or his state's consent. Under the Hay-Chamberlain army reorganization, they were simply drafted as the "federal reserve."

Bitter protests from dependents flooded the Capitol. Wives and mothers of men snatched suddenly from their livelihoods appeared personally. Two orders resulted one releasing men with dependent's from serving, and the other paying as high as $50.00 a month to the families of those who chose to serve. Two millions was appropriated for this. It was declared to be on the same principle as the aid European belligerents extend to families of those in the trenches.

The session began with President Wilson's message urging a greater army and navy. Fear of foreign complications and an apparent public sentiment gave "preparedness" measures strong backing. But many Democrats and Middle West Republican's attacking the sentiment as "hysteria," continued the consistent foes of the President's program. Finally a "swing around the circle" in the Middle West by the President seemed to give the bills overwhelming support.

The Hay-Chamberlain army act, reorganizing and enlarging both state and national land forces, was signed by President Wilson, June 3rd. The peace strength of the regulars was set at 175,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers; war strength 287,000. States were authorized to raise 425,000 guardsmen, a large part of the expenses of which the federal government promised to bear.

NOT TO SHARE AUNT'S ESTATE

Nieces and Nephews of Late Pheobe Folger Lose in Decision Construing Will

SPRINGER SPECIAL JUDGE

Holds That Brother and Two Half-Brothers of Deceased's Husband Get Property

Judge Raymond Springer of Connersville handed down his decision yesterday afternoon construing the will of the late Pheobe Folger, a resident of Walker township, who left an estate valued at $10,000. Judge Springer was the special judge in the case and in his special finding of facts and conclusions of law holds that the nephews and nieces shall not share in the estate and that the sole heirs entitled to the estate are Rufus L. Folger, a brother of the late Thomas Folger, Mrs. Folger's husband and John C. Folger and Homer Folger, half-brothers of the late Thomas Folger.

The will of Pheobe Folger was drawn in 1894 and she died in 1914. Under the terms of the will her brothers and sisters and the brothers and sisters of her late husband were to share equally and each of her late husband's half-brothers were to get a sum equal to one-half that willed to the whole brothers. All of these relatives died except Rufus L. Folger, a brother of her husband and John and Homer Folger, half-brothers of her husband.

A claim to a share in the estate was set up by the nieces and nephews and to determine who should share under the will, Emerson E. Barnard, executor of the will, filed suit asking for a construction. The decision of Judge Springer finds for the defendants, the three men named. These men were opposed by the other relatives of Mrs. Folger and under the finding the following will receive no share of the estate, although they set up a claim: Emerson Barnard, Herbert Barnard, Eva Harvey, Addison Barnard, Horace Barnard, Warren Barnard, John E. Barnard, Alphonso Gardner, Frank P. Gardner, C. P. Gardner, Florella Pitts, John L. Rigsbee, Adrian Rigsbee, Albert Rigsbee, Manlove Rigsbee, Flora Swain, Frank Folger, Libbie Bodwell, Henry C. Folger, Wigan Folger, Orange Folger, Mary Nicholson, Laura Gould, Rufus Folger, Austin Leonard, Joseph Leonard, Mary Bortner, Sarah Underwood, Malinda Thompson, John C. Folger and Homer Folger.

The finding of Judge Springer follows:

"That the law is with the defendants, Rufus L. Folger, John C. Folger and Homer Folger.

"That the brothers and sisters of said testatrix, and the brothers and sisters of the late husband of said testatrix, as described in the first and second items of the last will and testament of Pheobe Folger, deceased, who are entitled to take under the same are such brothers and sisters of said testatrix, and those of her deceased husband of said testatrix as were living at the time of the death of said testatrix, and no others;—and that none of the nephews of nieces or other descendants of such brothers and sisters of said testatrix, or her deceased husband, or half-brother of such deceased husband as mentioned in the first and second items of such will, such brother and sister and half-brothers having died prior to the time of the death of said testatrix, will take any portion of said estate or be entitled to distribution thereof; and that, therefore, the only persons entitled to take under said

NO TRACE OF HEADLEE BOY

Police, After Searching in Two Cities, Believe He's in Indianapolis

So far the police have found no trace of Emerson Headlee, the thirteen-years-old son of Mrs. W. O. Headlee, who disappeared from home Wednesday night. Police-man Seward was in Connersville and Richmond yesterday but failed to find any clue that would lead to the whereabouts of the boy. Young Headlee has an uncle living in Richmond and it was thought likely that he would go there, but the relative had seen nothing of him.

The police believe now that he probably went to Indianapolis and if this was the case it is believed he will be found shortly. The boy's mother is almost distracted over his absence.

The meeting is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock and Chairman Riggs is desirous of having a large crowd. At this meeting Judge Comstock will likely announce his plans for an active campaign through the district.

BOY'S FOOT WASN'T CUT OFF AFTER ALL

Dr. W. C. Smith Got Letter Today Stating Physicians Changed Their Mind at Last Moment

HIS TEMPERATURE NORMAL

Dr. W. C. Smith received a letter this morning from the chief surgeon of the C. I. & W. in Indianapolis stating that Lewis Chester Wells the two-year-old son of Mrs. Rhoda Wells, who was injured in the accident a week ago last Monday at the Spencer street crossing here, was getting along so nicely that they decided not to amputate his left foot.

The letter stated that everything was in readiness for the operation but it was not performed as planned because the boy's temperature was found to be normal. Dr. Smith had secured consent of Mrs. Wells to amputate and because the doctors were in such a hurry it was believed the amputation resulted. The letter stated that perhaps one or two more toes would be removed but from indications now the foot would be saved. The boy's right foot is healing nicely. Mrs. Wells, the mother is now able to sit up in a chair at the home of her father.

—Mr. and Mrs. Low Bowman and family of Richmond were the guests of friends here for a time this morning while enroute to Brown county.

APPEAR ON THE SAME PLATFORM

James E. Watson and Harry S. New Address Two Rallies in Ripley County Thursday

TO BE ONLY TIME IN CAMPAIGN

Local Candidate Proves by Records G. O. P. Act and Not Reserve Law Averted a Panic

For the only time during the campaign, James E. Watson of this city and Harry S. New of Indianapolis, both Republican candidates for the United States senate, appeared on the same platform at two political meetings in Ripley county yesterday. It is the aim of the state speakers' bureau to send these two nominees into different territories, but each had promised some time ago to speak at the Ripley county rallies, one of which was held at Osgood and the other at Batesville.

They spoke to a crowd that filled the Batesville opera house last night and in the afternoon addressed a crowd of 1,000 persons at Osgood. Both candidates presented figures in support of their assertion that extravagance, and not the needs of the country, were responsible for the unprecedented expenditures of the present Congress. Mr. New criticized the Wilson foreign policy, both with respect to European countries and to Mexico.

Mr. Watson, asserting that the Aldrich-Vreeland act, a Republican measure, and not the Federal reserve act, saved the country from a panic after the outbreak of the European war, replied to President Wilson's recent address in Detroit, Mich., in which the President gave credit to the reserve act. He pointed out that the Democratic measure became operative four months after the war began and that Secretary McAdoo himself said 'the reserve system "was therefore unable to render any service in the situation."

Continuing Mr. Watson said:

"It will be remembered that the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill was passed by the Republican party in 1909 for the purpose of creating an emergency currency that could be so placed and disposed of upon demand as to prevent a money stringency in any portion of the country and thus make impossible a money panic like that which distressed the nation in 1907. This act expired by limitation on June 30, 1914, but the Democrats, by express statute, extended its operation one year in order that they might be able to take advantage of its ample provision.

"Before October 31, 1914, Secretary McAdoo had actually sent out $369,558,000 of the Vreeland currency to various banks and at that time reported that there was over $360,000,000 of it outstanding.

"In his annual report to congress on the 7th day of December, 1914, after reciting these various facts and claiming for himself and for his party 'the credit for averting a panic, McAdoo said: 'This has been accomplished,' having reference to the prevention of the panic, 'this has been accomplished, notwithstanding the facts that the federal reserve system was at that time only in process of formation and was therefore unable to render any service in the situation.'

"Here is an expressed acknowledgment of the fact that the panic was averted by making use of the currency provided by the Vreeland act, while the President 'squarely asserted in his speech in Detroit that the federal reserve act 'saved the country 'from a ruinous panic when the stress of the war came on."

Mr. Watson further asserted that

WILL MAKE FALL FESTIVAL PLANS

Citizens Interested in Event to Take Place of Horse Show Will Meet Tonight at 8.

TO JOIN WITH CENTENNIAL

Various Suggestions Have Been Made and They Will All be Threshed Out Tonight

Just what the nature of the fall festival and centennial celebration here the week of October 9, to take the place of the annual fall horse show, will be, is to be determined at a general meeting of all persons interested in the project at the mayor's office or council chamber tonight at eight o'clock.

Various suggestions have been made regarding features for the fall event. They will all be considered and threshed out tonight, and in all probability some committees will be appointed to take up the active work of preparing for the celebration.

The idea of bringing a carnival company here for the week has been abandoned and free attractions, shows and other concessions that are desired will be booked independently. The carnival which Greensburg and this city was considering and which was showing at Goshen this week, was not up to expectations. In addition, a rain storm leveled its tents and damaged its concessions so that it is doubtful if they would have been able to show here.

The idea of also having a home coming in connection with the festival and centennial has been suggested, and will probably be taken up. Many ideas regarding uniform decorations have been talked of, but it is generally conceded that the merchants will not expend the money they did last year with a professional decorator. They believe that they can do the job almost as well at a much smaller cost and invest the additional money to make a better festival.

The automobile show which was attempted last year for the first time in connection with the horse show was an unqualified success and there is talking of repeating it this year. The suggestion has been made that the show be put on under a large tent in the business district.

In view of the fact that the Greensburg centennial will be held the week following the date picked here, an effort is being made to book attractions for both places with the view of making better terms. George H. Dunn of Greensburg conferred with business men here Wednesday afternoon about this proposition and it is likely the two cities will join their interests.

PAYS UP AND GETS HIS COW

Police Take up Animal Caught Grazing in Streets

The police department had a full grown life-sized cow on its hands for a time this afternoon, but disposed of the property when the owner paid the costs of putting the animal up. For some time the police have been bothered by cows grazing near the city park. The complaints have been many and almost every time the cows get out in the streets. This afternoon one was found in the streets near the corner of Jackson and Ninth streets and was taken to a livery stable by Police-man Seward. The cow was the property of Forest Miller and the charges amounted to forty cents. The police are determined to stop the practice and will take up more cows that are found in the street.

FOR A STREET ASSESSMENT

W. C. Reinheimer Files Action Today Demanding $450

Walter C. Reinheimer filed suit this afternoon against George Havens, Mrs. Lou Havens, Arvell Herkless, the Peoples National bank, J. Frank Vance and Leander Wicker, to foreclose a street assessment demanding $450. Reinheimer was the contractor that built West Tenth and the complaint alleges that George Havens and Mrs. Lou Havens have not paid their assessment on lot No. 117 in the Payne, Reeve and Allen addition to Rushville. The other parties are made defendants because it is alleged they are claiming an interest adverse to the plaintiff's claim. Kiplinger and Smith represent the plaintiff.

CONGRESS ENDS A LONG SESSION

One of Most Eventful in Nation's History Contents With Questions of Grave Import

PREPAREDNESS IS DOMINATE

Inherits Most Pressing Problems From European War and the Mexican Turmoil

(By United Press.) Washington, Sept. 8.—"It has been good work."

With these words, President Wilson affixed his signature to the revenue bill today and indicated to leaders of the house and senate that the sixty-fourth congress, so far as it depended on his wishes, could come to a close. Some thing of an informal luncheon was made of the ceremony of signing the last bills of the session.

In a formal statement today the president warmly praised this session of congress. At the same time he expressed his regret that it had not had time to complete the railway dispute legislation proposed and declared his expectation that the entire program would be completed by the next session.

Congress adjourned at ten o'clock today. The session that had lasted longer and had seen more dramatic moments than any of recent history and that had appropriated more money than any congress preceding it came to a close amid scenes that contained little of the spectacular. It has been in session nine months.

Called on twice to back the President in steps which he thought surely meant war with Germany, and actually appropriating millions for the Mexican punitive expedition, it nevertheless found time for half a dozen domestic measures of major importance—and to approve the heaviest appropriations in American history.

"Preparedness" led in attention throughout. The largest naval appropriation the world has ever known in peace-time, and the next-but-one largest army budget, were approved. Back of every economic measure—child labor, rural credits, U. S. merchant marine, workmen's compensation, was the cry of "industrial preparedness."

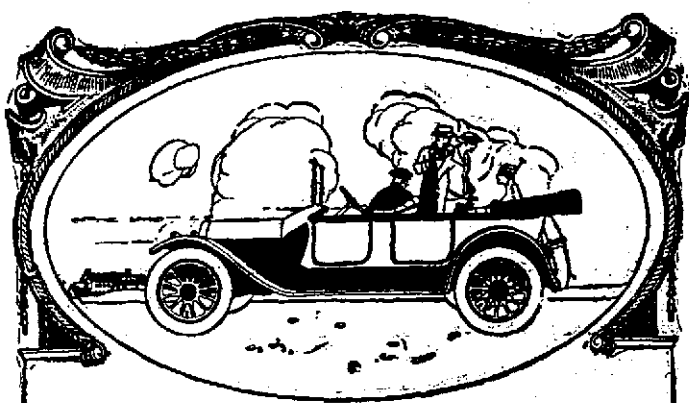

Though the Democratic party never lost its hold on legislation and though President Wilson at all times was the admitted pilot, not a single measure passed both Houses on strict party lines.

The most sensational episode of the session was the fight over the Gore and McLeMORE resolutions, warning Americans off armed merchant ships after Germany had given notice it intended torpedoing them. Avowedly slaps at the President's foreign policy, they brought the Chief Executive and Congress into sharp conflict.

Leaders of Congress called on the President and warned him if the resolutions came to a vote, they would be approved, two to one. The President's answer was a summary demand that they be tabled. Three or four days passed while the fight was organized from the White House. Then his congressional lieutenants struck, and the resolutions were overwhelmed. After that Congress—except for one halting exception—accepted the President's leadership in foreign affairs without question.

A short conflict loomed when the President personally visited the Capitol, and told Congress he had sent Germany a virtual ultimatum over the Sussex incident. Suddenly hundreds of thousands of telegrams in five or six identical forms, poured in from every section of the

Long before SENRECO was offered to you we submitted it to hundreds of dentists, requesting that they put it to every test. Told them that we believed Senreco to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially as to its cleansing qualities and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested Senreco from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—

And They Voted Yes

With practically one accord—said:

"Senreco appeals to me more than any dentifrice I have ever seen." "I cannot say too much for Senreco. It's one of the best I have used." "I can recommend Senreco as the best." "Makes the teeth glisten and is free from injurious ingredients, including pumice and grit." "I am indeed glad to get a tooth paste that does the work." "Congratulate you on formulating a dentifrice that gives one a new idea of mouth cleanliness, etc." (These quotations are from the dentists' reports. Originals on file at our office.)

With such endorsements from the men who know; why not go to your dealer today and get a tube of SENRECO—25c. Keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN, and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay.

A copy of the folder, "The Most General Disease in the World" together with a liberal trial size tube of SENRECO will be mailed you for 4c in stamps. The Senreco Remedies Co., Inc., Dept. B, Masonic Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Community Bell Wether.

Every farmer who raises sheep knows to what the above refers. The "bell wether" is the leader of the flock. He usually wears a bell, and wherever he and his bell go thither his flock obediently follows. For good or ill, its safety or into danger, where he leads they go. If he happens to be a wise old fellow, his followers profit by his wisdom, but if he develops vicious and unreliable traits disaster is almost certain to overtake the flock.

Have you ever paused to think how like the sheep are we humans in this respect? Look around in almost any community and you will easily spot the bell wether. And not only can you locate him, but a little study of local conditions will invariably disclose to the careful observer his true characteristics as a leader.

If the community is progressive, prosperous, law abiding and happy, you may put it down that this state of affairs results largely from the fact that these qualities are inherent in the leaders of community life.

We know that many people like to think and assert that we are all equal and recognize no leaders, but this is purely a figment of the imagination. Nine out of every ten of us are too busy with our own affairs to take time to attend to the details of community life. There are a thousand and one questions of public import that must fall to the lot of some one who has the time and the capacity to grapple with them, and under such conditions community leaders are developed. If, happily, he possesses wisdom, coupled with a spirit of unselfish devotion to the interests of the community, then the community is indeed fortunate. But when he develops vicious traits and an inclination for self-seeking, then, like the sheep, his followers are in danger.

While most of us are too busily engaged in our own pursuits to assume these burdens of civic responsibility, we yet may keep a watchful eye upon those who have assumed the burdens and assist them in the faithful discharge of their trusts.

This we can and should do, every one of us. This is a pretty good old world, after all, and safe leaders and public officials can easily be found, and every public spirited citizen should join the hunt.

A New York political writer has defined William Jennings Bryan as an honorable bunk bottle who produces gas 6,000 times lighter than air.

There is one automobile for every thirty-two persons in the United States, according to the compilation of an authority on the subject. We are chomelching this fact without asking if "you have yours."

An epigramist has given a definition of himself as one who can make a simple idea hard to understand.

Another Opportunity.

The New York Tribune contends that there is another opportunity for President Wilson to settle a strike on the eve of the election. It is the strike of the 15,000 iron miners in the Mesaba range. These men struck for $3 for eight hours work, and bi-monthly paydays. They have suffered hardship as a result of their strike and their families are enduring great privation. The Tribune points out that with the precedent established for the settlement of strikes by Congress, at the direction of the President, enacting legislation compelling employers to pay the wages demanded by their employees, the iron workers should rush Bill Haywood, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and Arturo Giovannitti to the White House, before Congress adjourns, that they should explain to the President the demands of the men and the number of voters in the organization known as the Industrial Workers of the World, remind him of the close approach of the presidential election and, with the added force of a graphic description of the privations of the miners' families, they would experience no difficulty in inducing Mr. Wilson to order Congress to enact legislation directing the mine owners to pay $3 for an 8-hour day. Mr. Wilson could not now logically refuse.

War still wages at the front in Europe and over the back fence in America.

We are frank to admit that dead men tell no tales, but a lot of tales are told about them after they are dead.

Death is not worrying us, but to be forgotten after death induces us to cling tenaciously to life.

When hunting for a job a recommendation is about the poorest recommendation you can have.

There are so many crooks in the road of life that most people prefer to cut the corners.

The ass that brays is not half so assinine as the one that makes suggestive remarks about women on the public streets.

the Aldrich-Vreeland act was passed to meet such conditions as the European war presented, and that the federal reserve bank act had no opportunity even to assist in preventing a panic, for it had issued only $3,000,000 in notes when the war broke out. The speaker also contended that everything good in the federal reserve law was taken from the Aldrich-Vreeland act.

SAYS BAKERS FACES A BAD SITUATION

State President Writes A. G. Wilkinson of Abnormally High Prices That Exist Now

HIGHER PRICES ARE LIKELY

A. G. Wilkinson has a letter from the president of the Indiana Association of Master Bakers, W. F. Geller of Fort Wayne, calling attention to the fact that the chief topic of interest at the approaching sessions of Indiana bakers' next Wednesday afternoon at Indianapolis will be the high cost of bakers' materials and the subsequent losses to the bakers with bread at its usual retail price.

Mr. Wilkinson recently made an announcement of an increase in the price of bread, effective Monday, August 28. He now sells nothing but a ten-cent loaf of twenty ounces.

Similar action is being taken elsewhere in the state. The letter from the state association president says the reasonable price of flour up until lately is the only thing that has saved many bakers from bankruptcy. Now that it has followed the examples of other ingredients of bread, bakers must do something to stay in business, he declares.

GOES DRY BY 388 MAJORITY

Bloomington Keeps Out Saloons by Largest Vote in History

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 8.—Bloomington, the seat of Indiana University, voted yesterday to remain in the dry column, giving a majority of 388 against saloons, the largest margin ever recorded in a local option election in the city. The figures were larger than even the dries expected and were a great disappointment to the wets, who claimed a victory last night on the showing of their poll. The wets carried only two precincts, and those by greatly reduced majorities as compared with two years ago. The only way the wets could explain the result was by saying that they failed to get out their vote.

RESTS WITH CONFERENCE

No Troops to be Withdrawn Until After Report is Made

(By United Press.) Washington, Sept. 8.—Neither the militia stationed on the border nor General Pershing's command will be recalled until the Mexican-American conference at New London, Conn., makes its report on that subject, it was stated upon high authority today. In the meantime, it was said, the plans to send other militia organizations now in their state camps to the border have not been changed.

Short Cake Any Man Can Make

Fruit is very plentiful this year—of good quality and low in price—the raspberries have not been so sweet and flavored for a number of years. This is practically true of all the fruits—Logan berries, blackberries and raspberries eaten either with fresh milk, sugar and cream or in short cake are especially delicious.

While nothing can be more appetizing than thoughts of a luscious berry short cake it brings too visions of a hot oven and a hot kitchen. However it would be worth the trouble but we don't have to take it. Better Holland Rusk is a recipe for the most delicious short cake you ever ate and any man can make it—the man that wrote this article has made and eaten many of them and his wife and daughters said they were good, too—use any fruit with it.

Peach Short Cake

8 Holland Rusks ½ Cup Sugar
1 qt. Sliced Peaches Whipped cream

Slice the peaches with a silver knife (or use any seasonable fruit) and add the sugar, more or less will be needed according to the sweetness of the fruit. Allow this to stand to draw out some of the juice. Butter Holland Rusk and place in the oven to heat. Place a rusk on the plate and pour over it some fruit and juice, place a second rusk on top of the fruit and pour over some more fruit and juice. On top of this place a spoon of sweetened whipped cream and place a bit of fruit in this. Serve cold after preparing.

Holland Rusk is for sale at most grocers, crisp and fresh, at 10 cents per package. The prudent housewife always keeps them in her pantry to serve with creamed dishes or with fruit. The famous Dutch Windmill Cookies made by the bakers of Holland Rusk are the most delicious cookies you ever tasted. They are only 10 cents and are worth twice that and you will say so when you get them.

Results Tell the Tale

Can you doubt the evidence of this Rushville citizen?

You can verify Rushville endorsement.

Read this:

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Sexton St., Rushville, says: "I used to have to get up six or seven times, each night on the account of the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often they were scanty and accompanied by pain. I also had severe backaches. Nothing ever did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Johnson's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to fix me up. The pain left and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given July 27, 1912).

A PERMANENT CURE

On August 25, 1915, Mr. Levi said: "I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have given me a permanent cure."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Levi has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milbur Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

EVERY SECTION IS REPRESENTED

Prominent Athletes of Country Are Entered in National Amateur Athletic Contests.

RECORDS EXPECTED TO FALL

Indianapolis Has Contributed Four Players to the Cubs and All Expect to Make Good.

BY HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Newark, Sept. 8.—The most prominent athletes of the United States, from every section of the country, are here today to take part in the annual championship contests of the Amateur Athletic union. Today's contests are in the junior class, but tomorrow the senior champions will hold their meet. Interest in the contest centers mainly in the possibilities of victories for the western champions. The middle west and the Pacific coast are sending men who stand head and shoulders above previous importations from those sections, although some of them are men who already have taken part in the bigger games.

The University of Missouri, in Simpson and Floyd, has two wonderful men and the two are entered for the senior championships, having been picked at the meet recently held in St. Louis. Simpson, besides being a broad jumper of unanny power, holds an unofficial world's record for the 120-yard high hurdles and Floyd has a record in the pole vault. Simpson has been timed going over the barriers in 14-35 seconds, a record that is absolutely astounding.

From the far west will come Kelley, Thomson and Murray, all hurdlers, every one of whom has cleared the high hurdles in less than 15 seconds.

Archie Mucks, the prodigious weight heavier from the University of Wisconsin, will be a contender and the big athlete is expected to knock the props from under some records.

The western coast already have sent apologies ahead for any failures in the meet. They must make a long trip to compete and if they are stale it will be blamed to that. Traveling, it is admitted, has a bad effect on runners and jumpers.

Joie Ray, wearing the colors of the I. A. C., also is entered for the distance runs.

Alva Richards Cornell's strong man who hails from Provo, Utah, is favored to take the all round honors in the meet September 16th. He is the present champion. He also was victor in the last Olympic games at the high jump.

Records are certain to fall when these classy athletes get together in competition. It probably is the greatest collection of performers ever brought together in one field in the United States.

Columbia University, which was out of football for ten years until last year, will get back into the game this year with what is expected to be a strong team. First practice will be held Sept. 20.

Indianapolis of the American association already has contributed 4 players to the Cubs. Joe Kelly, outfielder, was first to go and Pitcher Nick Carter soon followed. This pair already has reported. Pitchers Victor Aldridge and Rex Dawson were sold later for delivery at the beginning of next season. Aldridge is declared to be one of the greatest prospects of the minor leagues.

Roger Hornsby, the Cardinal phenom, seems on the way to realize his ambition to lead National league swatsmiths during his first season as a major leaguer.

Negotiations for a football game between Yale and a Pacific coast university team are doomed to failure, according to New Haven reports.

Ralph Glaze, picked-as an all star American end when he was at Dartmouth, will help coach Drake University's football squad at Des Moines this year. Glaze has been at the University of Southern California for two years.

How to avoid Operations

These Three Women Tell How They Escaped the Dreadful Ordeal of Surgical Operations.

Hospitals are great and necessary institutions, but they should be the last resort for women who suffer with ills peculiar to their sex. Many letters on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., prove that a great number of women after they have been recommended to submit to an operation have been made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here are three such letters. All sick women should read them.

Marinette, Wis.—“I went to the doctor and he told me I must have an operation for a female trouble, and I hated to have it done as I had been married only a short time. I would have terrible pains and my hands and feet were cold all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was cured, and I feel better in every way. I give you permission to publish my name because I am so thankful that I feel well again.”
—Mrs. FRED BEHNKE, Marinette, Wis.

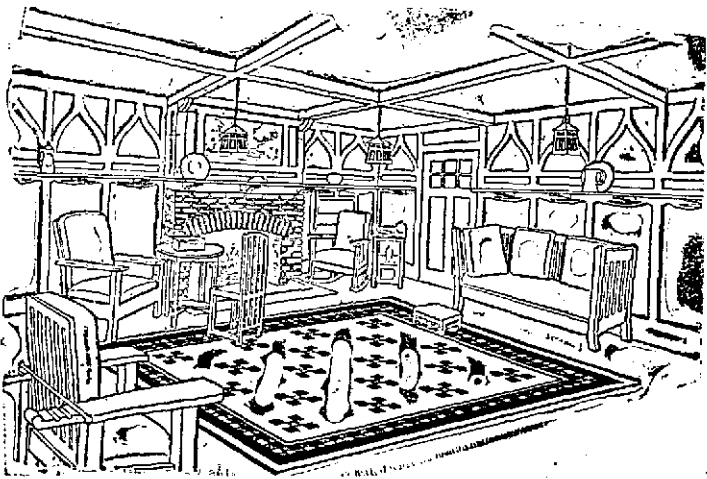

Detroit, Mich.—“When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so run down with female troubles that I could not do anything, and our doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. I could hardly walk without help so when I read about the Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others I thought I would try it. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and used them according to directions. They helped me and today I am able to do all my work and I am well.”
—Mrs. THOS. DWYER, 989 Milwaukee Ave., East, Detroit, Mich.

Bellevue, Pa.—“I suffered more than tongue can tell with terrible bearing down pains and inflammation. I tried several doctors and they all told me the same story, that I never could get well without an operation and I just dreaded the thought of that. I also tried a good many other medicines that were recommended to me and none of them helped me until a friend advised me to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The first bottle helped, I kept taking it and now I don't know what it is to be sick any more and I am picking up in weight. I am 20 years old and weigh 145 pounds. It will be the greatest pleasure to me if I can have the opportunity to recommend it to any other suffering woman.”
—Miss LENA FROELICHER, 1923 Manhattan St., North Side, Bellevue, Pa.

If you would like special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

"PEOPLE SAY I LOOK BETTER"

Neighbors of Mrs. Agnes Irons Make Her Improvement Common Subject

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 7.—"The neighbors are talking about the improvement in my condition," Mrs. Agnes Irons, 54 years old, a well known Fort Wayne woman, who lives at 704 Davis street, said a few days ago. "They say I look so much better since taking Tanlae," she continued.

"For six years I had kidney trouble and rheumatism bothered me for two years. I felt druggery all the time. Shortness of breath bothered me. Pains were severe across my back and in my left hip and my limbs."

"The druggery feeling began to leave after I had taken a half bottle of Tanlae. I've taken three bottles of Tanlae now. The shortness of breath bothers me no more. I can walk around as well as any one now. My improvement is a common subject of talk in my neighborhood."

Tanlae, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness and the like, and is a fine blood purifier. Tanlae is now sold exclusively in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's drug store, complaints, rheumatism nervousness, Wolcott's drug store; in Arlington at Mrs. L. T. Davis's; in Carthage at J. H. ## A DEPENDABLE DRUG STORE

It has been my aim for the past 30 years to run this kind of a DRUG STORE.

Purest drugs that do for nature what nature fails to do for itself. We never substitute and always keep a fresh stock and charge no more for the best.

The best place in the City to get a nice cool drink, but not the kind that will make the children run from you when you come home. If you have not tried our soda, believe me, you have been missing a good thing.

CONGRESS ENDS A LONG SESSION

country. There were hundreds of bushels of them. Astonished, Congress wavered in its attitude.

In a smashing speech, Senator Hastings exposed the demonstration as backed and financed by a German-American organization. Officials of the latter admitted it, and the affair became a cloak-room jest.

From the time the session opened, the pot of Mexican affairs never ceased boiling. Half a dozen Republicans—led by Fall and Borah in the Senate—were insistent interventionists. As the bandit raids into American territory developed, border Democrats became restless.

"Watchful waiting" was jeered as a policy productive only of bandit contempt and continued outrages. Each outbreak furnished new ammunition for interventionist oratory. At length guardsmen and troops were sent to the border. The movement was supported by both parties, although republicans charged it was a political rather than a military step. Senator Lafolette pushed through a resolution pledging the country against intervention. Alone of Republicans, he praised President Wilson's policy.

With the calling of the state troops, a new principle in American military history was established. For the first time, the President was enabled to send a national guardsman beyond the boundaries of his country without either the guardsman's or his state's consent. Under the Hay-Chamberlain army reorganization, they were simply drafted as the "federal reserve."

Bitter protests from dependents flooded the Capitol. Wives and mothers of men snatched suddenly from their livelihoods appeared personally. Two orders resulted one releasing men with dependents from serving, and the other paying as high as $50.00 a month to the families of those who chose to serve. Two millions was appropriated for this. It was declared to be on the same principle as the aid European belligerents extend to families of those in the trenches.

The session began with President Wilson's message urging a greater army and navy. Fear of foreign complications and an apparent public sentiment gave "preparedness" measures strong backing. But many Democrats and Middle West Republican's attacking the sentiment as "hysteria," continued the consistent foes of the President's program. Finally a "swing around the circle" in the Middle West by the President seemed to give the bills overwhelming support.

The Hay-Chamberlain army act, reorganizing and enlarging both state and national land forces, was signed by President Wilson, June 3rd. The peace strength of the regulars was set at 175,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers; war strength 387,000. States were authorized to raise 425,000 guardsmen, a large part of the expenses of which the federal government promised to bear.

REFUSES AN ACCOUNTING

W. A. Cowger is Sued Today by Guardian of E. C. Cowger

Fred McFarridge, guardian of Elmer S. Cowger, a person of unsound mind, filed suit this afternoon in circuit court against William A. Cowger, Eliza Price and Clark Offutt on a bond, demanding $650. William A. Cowger was removed as guardian of Elmer C. Cowger some time ago. Price and Offutt were on his bond while he was guardian. The complaint alleges that he has failed and refuses to make an accounting to the new guardian and continues to use some of the land belonging to his one time ward.
